Late News Brevities

From the Chicago Tribune, Dec. 3

A fire, public newspapers learned of in Louisville.

The Methodist Book Concern of Cincinnati has given $50,000 for a stone front building on Fourth street.

An impecunious bridegroom in New Haven requested the officiating priest to charge the expenses.

Powers, the celebrated sculptor, returns to the United States this winter, after thirty one years absence.

Since the war, actual settlers have bought $500 000 worth of property in the vicinity of Warrenton, Va

Pym, Bolingbroke, Chatham and Bright, are said by Goldwin Smith to be the four great orators of English history.

A temperance lecturer of Lynchburg, Va., in a place of Inexpensive, which necessitates the use of a tone that keeps him "right" more than half the time.

A political journal, entitled Dix December, has been started in Paris, to revive the democratic movement that, in 1848, elected Louis Napoleon President.

James Fisk has made a flank movement in the Erie war, by bringing suit against the Tribune, Times, and World, laying damages at $100,000 each, for publishing the detective's statement that Fisk had absconded. All these papers published the report on Tuesday morning, as received from police headquarters, relative to the departure of the train on Monday night, and the movements around the Erie offices and depot. The Sun published the same report; but, as it also published Gould's statement that Fisk had not absconded, it is not sued. The Springfield Republican is sued for $50,000, and it is understood to be Fisk's intention to sue all the leading and wealthy newspapers in the country, and place his damages at $50,000 to $100,000 each. His own counsel will push the matter in the courts immediately, and engage local counsel to attend the cases.

MRS. VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX.—Harper's Bazar has a very excellent picture of the wife of the Vice President elect. It does greater justice to her beauty than the fair portrait of her in the accompanying text which is all we can copy:

Nellie Wade, as she is familiarly styled by her friends, is the daughter of Theodore L. Wade, the eldest brother of Benjamin F. Wade, now President of the Senate, and Vice President of the United States. Her step-mother is her aunt, the sister of her own mother. Her father, who died some five years ago, was an Ohio farmer, and she spent her whole life, when not at school (she was educated at the Cleveland and the Willough by (Ohio) Female Seminaries), in the farm-house where she was born, engaged in domestic and home duties, which were varied only by occasional visits to her relatives in different parts of the country. It was one of these visits to her aunt in Washington, three years ago, that Mr. Colfax formed the acquaintance which ripened into an engagement last summer during a trip to the Rocky Mountains. The picture shows a sensible, earnest and thoughtful face, the owner of which would be likely to give none but good counsel to her husband in his responsible position. But still more striking is the graphic portrait, kindly drawn for us by a friend who knows her well. "She is just thirty two," he says, "and not ashamed of her age. She is not tall, nor short, nor stout, but will average 140 pounds. She is not handsome, but good looking. She is quiet, reserved, repressed, self-poised and self controlled to a remarkable degree. But you think of her that still waters run deep. She seems to have had a life—a quiet country town, village and farm life—that has not been congenial, or, rather, has not drawn her out at all; and her repressed manner and nature are due, possibly, to this. There is no gush, no brilliancy, no show, no exuberance in manner, appearance and style. Her new life will bring her out; but she has nothing of what is called 'society manners,' and will make no impression upon the multitude. Fastidious and feminine to a very high degree in one of such experience, she is the most admirable selection for a wife for Mr. Colfax—a sweet, true, self-adjusted woman, with a young heart than I ever saw at thirty odd years, who would never make a career for herself, but would accept and fill whatever place came to her in the way of duty."

Judging from this brilliant bit of character-painting, the women of America will have reason to be satisfied with their representative in the second lady of the nation.

BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC.—It is time that everybody should know who wrote this immortal hymn. It has often been attributed to Whittier. A correspondent in the State Journal quotes the last verse as from the pen of Mrs Harriet Beecher Stowe. While in the Silver Spray, a recent musical publication of John Church, Jr., of Cincinnati, the writer thereof is said to have composed it while a prisoner in Libby. He was, not long since, introduced to an audience of three thousand people as the author of that hymn. This confusion arises from an absurd custom adopted by the Atlantic and other leading magazines, of publishing articles without the authors' names prefixed.

"The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was composed at the beginning of the war by Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, of Boston. While she was writing, without realizing it, her soul took up the measure of the John Brown chorus, and to that tune the nation has been singing it. I believe it had seldom been sung to that tune before that eventful morning of the 6th of July, 1863, when the news of Gettysburg lifted the despondent hearts of the prisoners in Libby from utter despair to a delirium of joy.

Soon afterward it was sung in the Hall of the Representatives, Mr. Lincoln joining in the chorus and calling for its repetition—and he remarked in my hearing, "That is the finest hymn I ever heard." Eminent musical composers have tried to rescue it from its connection with the John Brown chorus by setting it in finer music, but they have never succeeded. They cannot bury it. One cannot help wishing that a pen so powerful as Mrs. Howe's might be more prolific. She seldom writes for the public eye, but when she does her words are graved in the memory of the nation. "As with an iron pen, and with lead in the rock, forever." C. C., in the Cincinnati Gazette

A FRIEND TO PHYSIC.—Mr. Samuel Jessup who died at Heckington, Lincolnshire, in 1817, was an object of particular memory. He lived in a very eccentric way, as a bachelor, without known relatives, and at his decease was possessed of a good fortune, notwithstanding a most inordinate craving for physic, by which he was distinguished for the last thirty years of his life, as appeared on a trial for the amount of an apothecary's bill, at the assizes at Lincoln, a short time before Mr. Jessup's death, wherein he was defendant. The evidence on the trial affords the following materials for the epitaph of the deceased, which will not be transcended by the memorabilia of the life of any man. In twenty-one years (from 1791 to 1816) the deceased took 228,934 pills, supplied by a most highly respectable apothecary and worthy person of the name of Wright, who resided at Bottesford, which is at the rate of 10,868 pills a year, or 29 pills each day; but as the patient began with a more moderate appetite, and increased it as he proceeded in the last five years preceding 1816, he took the pills at the rate of 38 a day, and in the year 1814 he swallowed no less than 51,090. Notwithstanding this, and the addition of 40,000 bottles of mixture, and juleps and electuaries, extending altogether to forty five closely written columns of an apothecary's bill, the deceased lived to attain the age of 65 years.

At the Court of Criminal Correction of St. Louis, lately, a learned lawyer, dissatisfied with his success with an Irish witness, complained to the Court. The Hibernian said, "I'm no lawyer, your honor, and he wants to purzue me."

Counsel—Come now, do you swear you are no lawyer?

Witness—Faith an' I do, an' you might swear the same about yourself, without danger of perjury.

A Romance.

A WIFE SEEKING TWENTY EIGHT YEARS IN SEARCHING FOR HER HUSBAND—SHE FINDS HIM IN CLEVELAND—THE HISTORY OF HER SEARCH.

From the Cleveland Herald, Nov 25.

In the beginning of 1840, Henry Leffingwell was a well to do mechanic, living near the suburbs of London, England. In the month of March of that year a larceny was committed near his residence, and circumstances pointed to him as the perpetrator. He was arrested, examined before one of the stipendiary magistrates and fully committed for trial. A month after he was convicted and sentenced to hard labor in the penal colony of Australia for a period of ten years, and in less than a week thereafter he was on his way to the far off land. His devoted wife, who all the time firmly believed in her husband's innocence, at once made preparations to follow and remain near him during his confinement, so that she might be the first when his ticket of leave came, to cheer him with good counsel, and comfort him with wifely love. The ship containing the convict arrived safe, and her cargo of living human beings was at once transferred to the government workhouses. Not so, however, the ship upon which Mrs. Leffingwell embarked. When half way upon her journey, the vessel encountered a fearful storm, and, after buffeting the waves for two days, foundered and went down, the crew and Mrs. Leffingwell barely escaping upon a raft hastily constructed when it was found that the ship could not be saved. After an exposure of several days they were picked up by the American ship North Wind, bound from New York to China, where Mrs. Leffingwell was at length landed, only to find herself further than ever from her destination, and with no immediate prospect of reaching it. After several months of patient watching and waiting she was enabled, through the kind offices of the American Consul, then residing at Teddo, to secure passage to Cuba, whence the prospect of reaching Australia would be much improved. Passing over a space of a year and a half, in which Mrs. Leffingwell passed through many scenes calculated to try firmer resolutions than hers, but through which she clung to her resolve with true English obstinacy, she finally found herself on the shores of Australia, but as much as a loss concerning the exact locality of her husband's whereabouts, as she would be of a needle for which she would be hunting in a haymow. She persevered, however, but four long years passed away ere she was enabled to obtain the slightest trace of her husband, from the fact that when once landed from the ship, each convict receives a name by which he is only known to his keepers. Mrs. Leffingwell knew not her husband's name, and when she made inquiries for him she was always baffled with the question, "His number, ma'am?" At the end of the time spoken of, during which her means had become exhausted, and she had been compelled to resort to menial labor, she one day picked up a Sydney paper, in which was an account of her husband's release, the usual denial of the larceny having been found and reported. The account gave her his convict's number and the facts which

Christmas

[illegible] festival of Christmas [illegible] festival of charity [illegible] deeds but that charity [illegible] which enables us to [illegible] more [illegible] confines and [illegible] Infinite. Christmas [illegible] among men It [illegible] for He who was born on this day commanded it to [illegible] the poor in especial care For [illegible] the hungry and [illegible] the houseless and [illegible] special commands His Nativity [illegible] more fitting or acceptable manner than by carrying into the houses of the poor some of the substantial comforts of this life—plenty of food and supplies of clothing that from the hearts of these may also go up thanks to the Great Dispenser of all things

This is a festival in which the children have especial joy They celebrate it with that love and affection peculiar to childhood Let it be observed among all with the joy and happiness which pertain to a festival having the significance it possesses

Vote of Oregon as an Index of Population

In 1860, according to the census of the United States, the population of Oregon was 52,465. The total vote thrown for President in this same year was 14,411 The ratio of voters to the population was therefore as 1 to 3 64 Taking the vote thrown in the late election and estimating the population upon the basis of the proportion of 1860, and we find that the population of Oregon would now be 80,425

But there is reason to believe that the population of the State now considerably exceeds these figures The proportion of voters to the whole population cannot now be nearly so large as in 1860 Illinois had in 1860 one voter to every 5 04, Ohio one voter for every 5 80 of the whole population In this State the aggregate number of inhabitants is certainly increasing in a more rapid ratio than the voting population, there are evidences of this fact in every county The number of inhabitants to a voter must now be nearly as large in Oregon as it was in Ohio or Illinois in 1860 It certainly is not an excessive estimate to compute the whole inhabitants of the State at the rate of 4 50 for each voter This would make the aggregate population 89,426 which is probably very near the actual population of Oregon.

By the State census of 1865 the population was computed at 65 090 But this census is not regarded as very accurate or complete It was not made a specialty as is the case when a census is taken by authority of the United States This State census showed in 1865 about the same proportion between the voters and the whole population which existed in 1860 though it must be evident during those five years the whole population increased in more rapid proportion than the voters In 1870 the population of the State will, without doubt, be found to considerable exceed 100 - 000, and we shall note a gain of 100 per cent and perhaps considerably more, in ten years.

Reconstruction in Georgia

The Copperhead press has a new theme The opposition which has been made in Congress to re-construct Georgia, furnishes the carpers with a new opportunity to dilate on Congressional perfidy and the horrors of reconstruction Of course it does not suit them to go under that the perfidy is all on the other side. As Georgia has violated the fundamental conditions of reconstruction it is the duty of Congress to take hold of the matter again, and compel compliance with the laws The Sacramento Union discusses the subject in this conclusive manner

> The Act of Congress admitting Georgia to representation explicitly provided that men disqualified by the Fourteenth Amendment should not be admitted to office. Gen. Meade, in the first instance refused to do his duty by leaving this determination to be made by the Legislature The loyal members of that body followed his bad example, and in a fit of generosity for which they have dearly paid refused to apply the qualification required in the Act of Congress The fraud's mental condition of the Act was, therefore violated and thus the State was left as before subject to the control of Congress Sumner's bill provides for this condition of things, by declaring the present Government of the State provisional and requiring the Legislature to purge itself of its unqualified members The right and duty of Congress so to act is manifest in the premises and has been made more so by the consequences which have followed the illegal manipulation of the Legislature by Toombs and Hill; for they were the master spirits and managers of the whole plot to defeat and frustrate the obvious intention of the law. It was those model patriots who, after the adjournment of Congress, squatted at Atlanta, like the toad in Eden of old, and counseled the men who had been magnanimously received as fellow members although disqualified, to return the grace conceded to them by traitorously ousting loyal colored members, on the pretense that the State Constitution not having provided in express terms for the alligibility of colored men to office, had meant to disqualify them Yet we find that subsequently a bill offered to thus disqualify colored men from office lingered and at last failed of passage in the Legislature The Act of admission also provides against taking away the suffrage and as long as the colored men have that the rebels probably feared to pass such a law as we have mentioned They had done enough for the immediate purpose which was to get control of the State and carry it for Seymour But, as we have seen they had already gone too far, because they had nullified their own action by violating the conditions upon which they were to be allowed to take part in the Presidential election

COLLECTORS The Unionist continues its labors in connection with the Democratic organs to force the Governor to call a special session of the Legislature We have nothing to add in this respect to what we have heretofore said except to remark that we don the heave in yielding to Democratic dictation and with the unanswerable fact before us that the Democrats refused to pass the appropriation bill and drove the entire respectable portion of State officers adrift that the blame rests the Democratic party and that party alone the reckless, violent Democratic majority to make amends and beg pardon That is the plain And it is the general opinion of the Republican party

TRYING TO COMPLETE The Indiana Democracy at their closing, 8th of January Convention will hold an informal meeting for the purpose of electing the [illegible] of the party up [illegible] ticket On [illegible] perhaps the [illegible] of the city will insist upon the adoption of a progressive platform in many features identical with that presented by the friends of Judge Chase to the New York Convention Senator Hendricks is said to be identified with this movement A portion of the Democracy of Indiana are of all the Northern States are worst cut on in the unyielding fight against living principles and in behalf of issues which have had no vitality for years If they prefer a good wholesome dose of Republican doctrine they will find that it will do them good But we fear they lack power to deliver themselves from the past which they are hamed

WHAT FOR The Jacksonville Sentinel puts the serious question in this light What are the Democratic papers in this State doing, and what have they done about it in their session of the Legislature for We thought that night sessions were not to be indulged in until March 1st 1869 That being the case what business have they calling on the Government to incur extra cost If the session is to be the late session it was a full month of idly have business enough, in the account of the Republicans who work in our when the session ended

STATE AT IT The fact is trying to get the Supreme court decision against the constitutionality of the reconstruction acts is still kept up at Washington and the managers of Sharkey of Mississippi and their rebels It will probably go on during the whole life of these Bourbons for it seems impossible to cure them of the folly of fighting the reconstruction acts

The Polk County Signal contradicts the statement that it is about to sell out to British Brown Upton says his paper is to be a fixed institution in Polk county Glad to hear it Upton is all right The Republicans will carry Polk next time, sure

[illegible] Jacksonville paper says The woolen mill at Ashland is now fairly at work It has turned off some splendid white and colored flannels, and the machinery is now running on blankets and cassimeres We hope to see our people wearing brand new Ashland suits ere long

The farmers in the neighborhood of McMinnville, Yamhill county, are trying to form themselves into a joint stock company with a capital stock of $10,000 for the purpose of starting a store in that neighborhood The farmers to the number of a hundred or more are to pay into the concern a hundred dollars each

The Sentinel says Among the many blessings enumerated as the consequence of Democratic government, "low taxation" is prominent In Jackson county it seems to be imaginary rather than real Last year the tax levied in this county was twelve mills on each one hundred dollars of taxable property This year it has increased to ten teen mills

A DESERVED REBUKE —The City Council must [illegible] is perfect The secret of How not to do it,"

Street Commissioner can trump every trick [illegible] Council ever thought of taking He has got it [illegible] a science We asked a member of the Council [illegible] day if he knew whether the city has a [illegible] and he replied that he [illegible] and having [illegible] since one some months ago and that the [illegible] nearly drawn once a month from [illegible] of the office is not vacant in law, however it may be [illegible] The streets and sidewalks are [illegible] in such [illegible] these are to lend naturally to the [illegible] that the [illegible] of [illegible] is either dead or [illegible] up, or gone on a [illegible] The drawing of the salary is the only redeeming [illegible] Those things being so, and having long been so, [illegible] all but himself bound to take [illegible] and last evening an [illegible] was [illegible] declaring that the [illegible] privity of the Board, [illegible] is not [illegible] of by the City Council, [illegible] be instructed to proceed forthwith to [illegible] out all the encroachments of the Council [illegible] and to act. It strikes us that this [illegible] Council which is famous for [illegible] can be left undone is [illegible] city officer could well receive. It has [illegible] and if he don't wake up the Council [illegible] it will be one for Gabriel to toot his horn [illegible] to hear it.

QUARANTINE MATTERS —The city of Portland [illegible] quarantine regulations are not [illegible] both [illegible] The Council has [illegible] the [illegible] the conditions [illegible] which [illegible] shall [illegible] the port [illegible] the Council has never [illegible] any [illegible] with the [illegible] other localities [illegible] may lend at once [illegible] any legal remedy Should our [illegible] that must [illegible] there, [illegible] and to heed the [illegible] and heed [illegible] the city [illegible] be able [illegible] with the [illegible] when [illegible] ships [illegible] to the [illegible] the [illegible] quarantine [illegible] by law [illegible] the ports of the State. A SAD [illegible] —Deputy [illegible] Esq & Chas had their hat, [illegible] of First and [illegible] up last evening with the finest [illegible] we have ever seen in this city The card is the [illegible] tion and the [illegible] in the United [illegible] most only [illegible] have the very best [illegible] This [illegible] of the [illegible] with [illegible] surely the [illegible] with [illegible] the [illegible] arrangements

MORE —Encore —We have been at some [illegible] the last few days, & the [illegible] and [illegible] of work done but [illegible] all [illegible] them all running [illegible] light, no [illegible] with the [illegible] work turned out during the year [illegible] large considering the [illegible] of the weather, [illegible] doubt if any [illegible] on the P [illegible] that matter, of [illegible] Council, [illegible] showing for the year 1868, [illegible] Portland workers.

FUNERAL —The Odd Fellows of this city will go to [illegible] Co this morning to [illegible] the [illegible] Rev Fred. Chas [illegible] who will be [illegible] of the order whose [illegible] the last [illegible] rites, and of which he was a [illegible] The [illegible] will take place at 11 o'clock to-day, [illegible] will be conducted by the Rev R Gray. A FUNERAL ENGAGEMENT.—Rev Mr Hoyle were held last evening [illegible] the Presbyterian, Methodist, Lutheran, Universalist [illegible] Congregational and Baptist churches and the Good Templar's Hall, besides at [illegible] of private [illegible] There were Christian [illegible] at most of these places [illegible] high enjoyment at all of them. At the Presbyterian [illegible] was [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] self who distributed gifts [illegible] were, and [illegible] little folks were immensely [illegible]

SHOOK —The newspaper [illegible] who played in our drawer last evening, as a Christmas present, that jolly [illegible] of Olive smoking tobacco, shall be [illegible] daily remembered while memory holds a seat in this [illegible] globe" of ours The gift was most fitting; it [illegible] our weakness exactly, and

Now let the pipe of [illegible] Fair and wide, over hill and vale!"

RETURNED —Mr Eugene Semple, who went [illegible] or three weeks since to San Francisco [illegible] trial for a new daily [illegible] paper, has returned to We are informed as to the results of his [illegible] We are not however, that he has [illegible] out with a brilliant [illegible] but which he wears with a [illegible] It seems and a decided [illegible] to-cost-it-ness that indicates a large amount of [illegible] confidence in both the present and the future

RECREANCE —A B [illegible] is always done things brown when he starts in The "fellers" in this office thought so last evening, when he sent in a whole batch of hot and nicely [illegible] sausage [illegible] by a dozen bottles of [illegible] compliments [illegible] evening and [illegible] Herald for Richmond and a tiger If he don't have a merry Christmas to-day and [illegible] many happy returns of the anniversary he wants it's because he is the wrong end of the good [illegible] all the hands in the OREGONIAN office.

THE WICKS OF THE "AS YOU LIKE IT" [illegible] Chunks of the OREGONIAN boys for some [illegible] opened our evening labelled "Yours Cliquot [illegible] Raisins," and J H Cutter" We [illegible] from the appearance that Wicks knows the [illegible] and best [illegible] and don't keep any of the [illegible] stuff and base imitations and don't keep any of the [illegible] fury

OREGON DISPENSARY —Drs Loryea & Hall [illegible] opened their Dispensary last evening, on which occasion they welcomed a large number of their friends with many drugs but with [illegible] words and words of good cheer They have the drugs however to be dispensed hereafter

THE FIRST LOSS —The death of Mr Fred. Chase causes the first loss to the Mutual Life Insurance Company in Oregon The deceased was local agent for the company at Oregon City and was insured for three thousand dollars which will be paid at once to his heirs.

NEW PAPER —A paper bearing the name of the Weekly Twice Week has appeared at Silver City Idaho J and J B Butler proprietors It presents an unusually neat appearance and is Republican in politics and well filled with [illegible] news.

ANNUAL GRAND OPENING
SANTA CLAUS'
BUDGET!
McCORMICK'S
BOOK STORE!
WHERE MY
HEAD-QUARTERS
HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED
For the past Seven Years,
AND WHERE
I WILL HOLD MY ANNUAL CARNIVAL
DURING THE COMING FESTIVAL
THAT ALL MAY OBSERVE
The Christmas and New Year's HOLIDAYS!
I here with issue my Annual PROCLAMATION!!!

Dear Parents and Children ... once more I appear
And wish you good Christmas, and Happy New Year!
I've brought you glad tidings ... more
My Budget of Wonders ... McCormick's Book Store!
I've spread out my treasures ... a call
And I view the whole GIFTS I've procured for all
My Presents this year were conveyed to the town
By Mercer's new clipper the swift Sailor Brown.
The stock is most complete. The assortment comprises
Curiosities rare of all shapes and all sizes
I've Dollies that talk. I've babies that dine
(Some very handsome I purchased in France)
I've Dolls that can swim. I've Roosters who strive
To crow as like nature you'd think they really were
I've Guns, and I've cannon—I've neat Savings Banks,
And Soldiers that look very neat when in ranks
I've Puzzles and Pianos. Then Christmas to keep,
I've Candles, Reflectors and Brackets—a heap
I've beautiful Baskets, (a nice gift for Ma)
And handsome Cigar Stands just suited for Pa.
While there's nothing so welcome to uncle or aunt,
As a beautiful portrait of President Grant.
I've Work Boxes—handsome as ever were made—
With ladies utensils all nicely arrayed
I've nice sets of China—I've Vases of Flowers,
And Mantel Boxes that play at all hours
I've Furniture, Villages, Steamboats, and Stocks,
That any little joker, called Jack-in-the-box!
I've Tables, and Dressers, for China or doll,
I've also Soldiers, that you play by yourself!
I've new Wight Lanterns—a beautiful sight
To make all good children merry at night
For girls at school I've a nice Skipping Rope
And for family fun I've the new Zoetrope!
I've Games that instruct, and Books that amuse,
For Girls to good people I never refuse.
In fine, I've got all that such hearts could desire,
To name them all over your patience I'd tire
But call on me early, or call on me late
I'll visit your houses all over this State
In Washington's clime—up in young Idaho—
I'm sure to find children wherever I go.
I've travelled for years—you all must remember
I'll be Sixty-nine at the end of December
My hair is all white, and my body doth tend
To the latest sensation—the new Grecian bend!
On Christmas Eve night as in bed you all sleep,
With pack on my back down each chimney I'll creep,
I'll lay out my Presents but oh—twill be shocking.
Should I find a hole in any one's stocking!
So, for HOLIDAY GOODS—for Dolls sweet as honey,
Go to McCORMICK Bro—you'll save half your money!
Nice Presents or Gifts—any kind you require,
You'll find at the FRANKLIN —(the number enquire)
On FRONT STREET Near Alder—105,
In fact you can't miss it—and when you arrive,
Don't ask goods at cost for you'll find, if you try
That goods sold at cost always cost very high!
But to purchasers all, this maxim I'd give
Live well yourself, and thus let others live!

Given at my Palace in Wonderland, this 7th day of the Twelfth month being the second year of the reign of the third George, in the land of Webfoot.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 623 AND 627 FRONT ST
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned who has always enjoyed a public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, imposing upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of its consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice

THE MEDA

We understand that leading Republican Congressmen now in Washington, have determined to propose that Congress shall formally reaffirm the pledge known, of the people in regard to the public credit and the payment of the five-twenty bonds in gold. At the same time it is proposed to define the limit of the law bearing obligations of the government, and forbid all further issues of gold bonds, either directly or by the roundabout way of conversions. These measures will set at rest the president greenback theory which the people condemned in the elections of Grant. N. Y. Times

Portland—Breadstuffs, generally the same as last week but the market is dull. There is some doing in forward, though the figures do not approach those of last year, for the corresponding period.

Merchandise market very quiet, with but little change in quotations since last report. Groceries seem to have reached their maximum figures and to have become more quiet. Dry goods—trade dull in staples. Fancy holiday goods have gone off rather freely, though there are no heavy sales.

Mr. Zachariah Wilson, Portland, Oregon, writes:

"It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself during the stormy ordeal of public experiments. Murray's Improved Magic Oil has stood the test of time and has not been found wanting. The astonishing efficacy that I experienced in curing me of Chronic Rheumatism and Lumbago, of long standing entitles Dr. Murray's Premium Lung and Liver Balsam and Improved Magic Oil to a high rank in the list of remedies for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Earache, Distressing Pains etc."

John English of Howell Prairie, Marion county, Oregon writes:

"I was taken with a severe attack of Rheumatism in my knee joints and ankle entities accompanied with a severe cough for two months so that I had to use crutches, though I tried trying all remedies in common use. Your Magic Oil and Balsam gave me instant relief, and I was able to work in four days without crutches. I have not had any rheumatic since. I have seen your hand's medicines work like effectual cures. I have no hesitancy in saying that the best preparations for family use ever introduced to the people. I am now on my way from North America after residing in Oregon twenty years. I intend to have two bottles Balsam and two bottles of your Magic Oil Dollar bottles, as I am sure they are the best remedies in Oregon and I would not be with them in my home, and when this package of medicine is exhausted I will send to you or some others in Portland for the best fresh supply."

CHANCE OF NAME!

MERCADO & CO., SUCCESSORS TO Mercado & Scully have been obliged for their own protection and the safety of the public, to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to

MERCADO'S Native California Wine BITTERS

We adjourn the following published extract from an injunction suit recently pending between Scully and A. Scully, plaintiffs, vs. [illegible] defendants:

F. [illegible] sworn says, That the [illegible] Scully [illegible] Chile and California Wine Bitters was made to imitate Mercado & Scully's since the month of March, 1865, with the said name on the bottles; that they are not in the manufacture of the "Original and Genuine" Mercado & Scully's Bitters, and are not manufactured and prepared by the said Mercado & Scully, but are a spurious imitation of the said Mercado & Scully's Original Preparation called the Sacramento California Wine Bitters."

Notwithstanding the above affidavit of the said F. Pantaleoni in favoring up a spurious article under the name of Sacramento California Wine Bitters, representing it to be the same as our celebrated Bitters which we have been manufacturing and selling in immense quantities since 1858, and also offering a base & similar labels to that used on our genuine Wine Bitters. BEWARE OF DECEIVERS! Send for

MERCADO'S

NATIVE CALIFORNIA WINE BITTERS,

And you will obtain the purest and best beverage ever made, known since 1858. Beware of Counterfeits! Put down on our Wine Bitters are requested to look for the bottles [illegible] yellow label, and see that the words, "MERCADO & SCULLY, SAN FRANCISCO," are engraved on the bottom and shining pasted over the cork of each bottle. These are the only effectual security against the counterfeit and worthless.
